SUPREME COURT DECIDES RACE PROBLEM CASE

CONCERNED RESIDENCE REGULATIONS

HIGH COURT REVERSES LOWER COURT DECISIONS UPHOLDING NEW ORLEANS

LATTER MADE IT UNLAWFUL WHITES TO ESTABLISH HOME IN NEGRO SECTION

Washington, March 14.—(UP)—The supreme court today handed down another far-reaching decision arising from the race problem, by reversing lower court decisions upholding New Orleans city and Louisiana state regulations segregating white and colored residences.

Chief Justice Taft announced the decision without opinion. It followed by one week the court's decision invalidating the Texas law forbidding negroes to vote in the democratic primaries.

This appeal was brought by Benjamin Harmon, from decisions against his suits charging the regulations violated his rights under the 14th amendment to the constitution.

The regulations make it unlawful for a white person to establish a home in a negro section, for a colored person to establish a residence in a white community.

The fact that the decision was not accompanied by opinions indicated that the court was unanimous and thought the points of law were not even questionable enough to need elucidation.

Harmon, colored owner of a cottage in a "white community"—Audobon street, in New Orleans—started to rent part of it to colored persons. Joseph W. Tyler, white owner of property nearby, brought suit for a restraining injunction under the state laws and city ordinance.

Harmon won in lower court but the Louisiana supreme court reversed the decision and ordered the injunction granted, holding that the ruling did not infringe on Harmon's right of equal protection under the constitution.

New Orleans city officials joined with Tyler in defending the segregation rules before the courts here.

The city regulations required Harmon to obtain written consent of a majority of persons of the white race of that portion of the city affected and file it with the mayor.

The city maintained the regulation was justified under the constitutional police power of the state and asserted that no discrimination was involved as white persons were required to follow the same procedure in establishing residence in negro communities.

PRINCE CAROL AND MOTHER IN RECONCILIATION

Bucharest, March 14.—(UP)—Former Crown Prince Carol of Roumania and his mother, Queen Marie, have agreed upon a plan for reconciliation between Carol and the Roumanian royal family, according to information obtained today from a high political source.

The prince was expected to meet King Ferdinand, Queen Marie, and his wife, Princess Helen, in Italy this spring.

EMPRESS OF CANADA RAMS JAP FREIGHTER

Shanghai, March 14.—(UP)—The S. S. Empress of Canada rammed the Japanese freighter Jinsho Maru amidships in the Whangpoo river below Shanghai today.

The Jinsho Maru was reported grounded and partially submerged. The chief engineer was missing and two members of the crew were critically injured.

The Empress of Canada probably will be delayed for repairs.

CLEAR SKIES, BRIGHT SUN IN DENVER

Denver, Colo., March 14.—(UP)—Clear skies and a bright sun greeted the Rocky mountain states today.

The marks of the blizzard of last week, the worst of the year, rapidly are being removed, according to reports received here.

While the mountain passes are inaccessible, most of the roads today were passable and highway travel was possible.

Pastors of State Tramp Over Sinclair's Book

Faribault, Minn., March 14.—(UP)—Nitro-glycerin bandits blew open the vault of the post office here sometime during the night and escaped with $140 in cash and stamps, it was discovered today.

Officials were unable to get a thorough check on the losses but it was believed the $140 was all that was obtained.

Entry was said to have been made through a cellar window.

SIX CHINESE KILLED, 11 HURT IN SINGAPORE

POLICE FIRE INTO CROWD CELEBRATING BIRTHDAY OF LATE SUN YAT-SEN

CHINESE HOLDING A PROCESSION CONTRARY TO THE REGULATIONS

London, March 14.—(UP)—Six Chinese were killed and 11 were injured in Singapore when police fired into a crowd celebrating the birthday of the late Sun Yat-sen, Cantonese leader, a Morning Post correspondent reported today.

The Chinese were holding a procession, contrary to regulations, and a police inspector endeavored to straighten out a traffic tangle, the dispatch said. The mob beat the inspector and other police drew their guns and fired.

Shanghai, March 14.—Martial law was declared in the native section of Shanghai today as the Cantonese forces resumed their offensive near Soochow.

British outposts guarding the foreign settlement of Shanghai were being strengthened because of the narrowly averted clashes between British forces and Chinese troops who tried to enter the settlement Saturday. The foreign forces searched every vehicle entering the settlement and confiscated arms and ammunition being smuggled to nationalist agitators.

Cantonese forces, which have been attempting to cut the Nanking-Shanghai railway, wrecked a passenger train on the line Saturday by removing several rails. No casualties resulted.

New complications in the strained diplomatic relations between Soviet Russia and the Pekingese government were threatened because of the refusal of Chang Chung-chang to release four Russians and the ship on which they were captured.

Russia had demanded release of the four—three diplomatic couriers and Mme. Borodin, wife of Michael Borodin, Soviet adviser to the Cantonese government—and their vessel, which Chang was refitting as a naval transport.

Fighting was resumed between Cantonese and northern forces at Pingwang and Wukiang, east of Lake Taihu and 34 miles from Soochow. It was the first battle since rains interrupted the southern advance a week ago. Firing could be heard in Soochow.

By H. C. FRANCIS MISSELWITZ
Shanghai, March 14.—Cantonese troops were suffering heavy casualties today near Wukiang, west of here, according to reports of the battle in the vicinity of Taihu Lake, by which the Cantonese expect to cut the Nanking-Shanghai railway.

If the Cantonese could cut the line, the north China soldiers now concentrated at Shanghai and west and south of this city would be cut from their base of supplies.

Reports from Hankow today indicated that dissension within the ranks of the Cantonese was increasing and that Marshal Chiang Kai-shek's anti-communist efforts were having considerable effect.

Chang is the military leader of the Cantonese.

LURE OF GOLD AT WEEPAH BURNS WILDLY

PROSPECTORS POURING INTO DESERT TOWN OF NEVADA

HUNDREDS SEEK QUICK WEALTH AT NEW DIGGINGS

Tonopah, Nev., March 14.—(UP)—Lure of gold at Weepah—scene of Nevada's greatest gold rush—held the hordes of prospectors pouring in to Tonopah even more tightly in its grasp today.

The flame that burned in the eyes of those who rushed over the frozen Yukon country, into Cripple Creek and Leadville and over the sunbaked hills of Sonora in Old Mexico, flared again in the eyes of the hundreds seeking quick wealth at Weepah.

Excitement reached its highest pitch today when it was learned that Ed McKelvey, 63 year old desert prospector, returned to Tonopah with the richest piece of quartz yet found in the Weepah field.

He said his bonanza was three miles from the original strike made by Frank Horton, Jr., and Leonard Traynor, youths who found ore assaying $78,000 to the ton. Other than that McKelvey refused to disclose the location of his find.

In addition to the McKelvey find, a new strike was reported three miles south of Weepah on claims owned by Wood and Irwin, Tonopah mining men.

The actual amount of gold taken from the Weepah field so far is small, however. Persistent rumors of new and bigger strikes continue to occupy most of the prospectors.

Arrival of "Honest Jim," dice shooter of many a gold trail, failed to attract much interest. He erected his stand and flung his sign to the breeze, "the sky's the limit." But his prospective customers were too busy gambling with nature to spend much time with him.

As one veteran sourdough put it: "what fun is there shootin' craps for dollars when maybe there's millions just under foot?"

And with that parting question, the old survivor of many a gold mining campaign, trudged off toward his claim, a pick over his shoulder and an ancient pistol on his hip.

AUTOPSY ON MAN WHO LEAPED FROM TRAIN

H. J. ROSE, CHICAGO INTERIOR DECORATOR, JUMPED TO HIS DEATH

SAID TO HAVE KILLED SELF BECAUSE DESPONDENT OVER WIFE'S DEATH

St. Paul, Minn., March 14.—(UP)—An autopsy was performed here today on the body of H. J. Rose, Chicago interior decorator, who leaped to his death from a Chicago, Milwaukee & Pacific train, near Hastings, Sunday.

Rose, who was on his way to Minneapolis with his two children, was said to have killed himself because of despondency over his wife's death in January.

A brother, R. C. Rose, Minneapolis, was on the train at the time and became alarmed when the Chicago man failed to return to their section of the Pullman, after he had locked himself in the washroom. Trainmen broke open the door to find only a smashed window through which Rose had jumped.

The body of the decorator was found on the tracks where it had been dismembered by a southbound freight train.

The Minneapolis brother was to accompany the body back to LaGrange, Ill., the family home, where Rose will be buried.

HEAVY SNOW STORMS IN JAPAN CAUSE DEATHS

Tokio, March 14.—(UP)—Heavy snowstorms throughout central and western Japan have resulted in several deaths and extensive property damage.

Three persons died in Tokio as a result of the storms, while 100 lumbermen are missing in the Chichibu mountains. Communication has been disrupted generally and extreme suffering has been caused in the districts hit by last week's earthquakes.

Many small buildings collapsed and hundreds of refugees, left homeless by the earthquakes, were without shelter.

London, March 14.—(UP)—Communications between Europe and the interior of Japan were restored today, but were subject to heavy delay, the Great Northern Telegraph company reported.

Communication was interrupted Saturday at Nagasaki, which meant that virtually the entire empire, including Yokohama and Tokio, was isolated. The Great Northern company believed the interruption had been due to a cyclone and snow storms.

3 MEN BREAK FROM PRISON AT JOLIET IN NIGHT

TWO RECAPTURED WHILE ONE IS STILL AT LARGE

MEN CLIMBED THE WIRE FENCE SURROUNDING PRISON QUARRY

Joliet, Ill., March 14.—(UP)—Three men escaped from Joliet penitentiary during the night, and one was still at large today, while prison officials are checking to determine the method of escape and identity of the third man involved.

Those captured, Lee Russell and Joseph Pasquelli, Chicago gunmen, were found in downtown Joliet.

It is believed the trio, who were working in the prison stone quarry, escaped by climbing the wire fence surrounding the area in which they were confined.

Joliet, Ill., March 14.—Two convicts who broke for liberty at Joliet penitentiary early today, were recaptured a few minutes later. Guards on the walls opened fire, cowing the convicts, while others ran after them.

The escape occurred at the penitentiary stone quarry. Prison officials reported earlier that at least three men had escaped from the quarry workings, but a check-up later showed only two had actually passed the wire barricade.

The men were Lee Russell and Joseph Pasquelli, Chicago gunmen.

HAITI HAS NO WELCOME FOR SENATOR KING

Washington, March 14.—(UP)—The government held today it was powerless to act further in the matter of Haiti's exclusion of Senator King, democrat, Utah, as "undesirable."

The state department previously sought to induce Haiti to modify its exclusion order, but word over the week-end here was that the Haitian president felt he must bar Haiti's doors to the visiting senator.

His action was based on an allegation that King had attacked him, and that the senator was linked with Haitian elements displeasing to the Haitian administration. His proposed visit to Haiti, it was held, would have caused internal political difficulties.

MAKE THE SAME MISDEMEANOR, REVOKE LICENSE

FORBID DRUNKEN DRIVERS TO USE A MOTOR CAR FOR PERIODS

MAKE RECKLESS AND DANGEROUS DRIVING MISDEMEANORS TOO

St. Paul, Minn., March 14.—(UP)—The Minnesota house of representatives today began action to curb drunken driving in the state.

A sub-committee of the house highway committee gave its approval to a group of recommendations which are part of the uniform traffic code suggested by the League of Minnesota Municipalities.

Bills as recommended by the committee would:

Make drunken driving a misdemeanor.

Revoke licenses of those convicted of the offense.

Forbid drunken drivers from using a motor car for periods of from three months to one year.

Make reckless and dangerous driving misdemeanors, with the same restrictions on drivers as for drunken driving.

At the same time anti-evolution "die-hards" today introduced a substitute bill in the house for the original bill which met its quick death in the lower chamber last week. The new bill presented by Rep. F. D. Fredricksen, Caledonia, would forbid the teaching of evolution as a "fact" but would permit its teaching as a theory.

The bank guaranty loan bill also bobbed up in the house today following the unfavorable report of the majority of the committee, sent to Nebraska to study similar legislation there. The minority recommendation report was signed by Rep. L. C. Rosseter, Granite Falls, Rep. Joseph A. Quinn, Menasha, and joint members Sen. William Hoepke, Faribault, and Sen. J. A. Carley, Plainview.

Ligoniere, Pa., March 14.—(UP)—A 12-year-old child was burned to death, three persons were injured, and damage of $100,000 was caused by fire at Wilpen today.

Firemen claimed the fire was of incendiary origin. It started in the home of Justice of the Peace William Wilson, a champion of prohibition law enforcement, spread to the Wilpen hotel, two grocery stores, a barbershop, a poolroom and another residence.

Emma Jane, Wilson's daughter, was trapped in her room at the rear of the house and burned to death.

FORD'S CRITICISM OF THE JEWS AIRED IN COURT SOON

PERHAPS COMPLETE THRESHING OUT OF SAME AT DETROIT, MICHIGAN

JURY OF FARMERS TO HEAR SAPIRO, JEW, AND FORD

By M. D. TRACY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Detroit, March 14.—Henry Ford's seven years of criticism of the Jews is on the verge of its airing in court—and perhaps a complete threshing out.

Tomorrow Ford, openly anti-Semitic, and Aaron Sapiro, a Jew, expect to begin before a jury of Michigan farmers the trial of Sapiro's million dollar libel suit against the automobile manufacturer. Preliminary arguments were to start today.

If Sapiro has his way before the trial ends, Ford will sit on the witness stand himself and answer a challenge to prove the truth of the attacks he has made upon the Jews.

If Ford has his way, the Jewish issue will be left out and the case will narrow down to a far-reaching study of the plan of which more than 100 co-operative marketing organizations handling perhaps a billion dollars a year in farm products, are organized. It is known as the "Sapiro plan." The marketing organizations flourish in 40 states and include most everything that farmers raise—cotton and tobacco in the south; peaches, prunes, fruits and wheat on the Pacific coast; potatoes in Maine, grain in the middle and northwest.

The present suit had its inception in a series of 20 articles published in Ford's Dearborn Independent under the signature of Robert Morgan, said to be the pen name of a San Francisco writer. The articles charged, in brief, that Sapiro was forming his organizations not in the interests of the farmers but in the interests of financiers who were Jews.

The articles bristled with such expressions as "a band of Jews," the "Jewish organization," the "Jewish promoters of the new American farm trust," "the Jewish movement on American agriculture," "Oriental financiers" and the like.

Sapiro is said to have demanded and been refused a retraction of the charges made against him. He then bundled them all up into a complaint which contains 20 counts and 141 specific instances of alleged libel and filed suit against Ford and the Dearborn Independent jointly for a million dollars.

Ford is reputed to be worth more than a billion dollars. The money involved means little to him, but he has refused to give up without a fight. He has spent already a sum which in Detroit is said to approach half a million, in preparing a defense.

He has sent attorneys into the far corners of the country—to Spokane and Seattle, Wash.; Pendleton and Portland, Ore.; San Francisco, Oakland and Fresno, Calif.; Lewiston, Idaho; Richmond, Va., and Raleigh, N. C.; Texas and Maine, Arkansas, Minnesota and the Dakotas.

"ELMER GANTRY" IS TERMED "ROT" AND "MOCKERY"

DR. CHARLES L. GRANT FLAYS THE MINNESOTA NOVELIST

SAYS "TRASHY NOVELS ARE SMUT GENERATORS, SOCIETY CANCERS"

St. Paul, March 14.—(UP)—While Sinclair Lewis, Minnesota novelist, was tramping the hills of Scotland Sunday, pastors of his native land tramped over his latest book, "Elmer Gantry," in terms that ranged from "mockery" to "rot."

"Scandal mongers are among the best paid members of society," declared Dr. Charles L. Grant, English Lutheran pastor. "The astonishing thing," he continued, "the almost unbelievable thing is that people will pay $2.50 for such rot as 'Elmer Gantry' when they can buy smutty literature at 5 cents a copy."

"Breeds of irreverence and mockers of religion lock the doors to truth when they buy such rot as has just appeared from the pen of Sinclair Lewis," he added.

Dr. Grant told his Sunday night flock that Lewis and his fellows did a grave injustice to humanity when they attempt to ridicule "faithful pastors who go about their duty ministering to the sick, cheering the hopeless and warning the unsuspecting against salacious literature."

"Trashy novels," Dr. Grant concluded, "are smut generators, society cancers and breed irreverence. A little learning can certainly do a world of harm."

SUPREME COURT DECIDES RACE PROBLEM CASE

CONCERNED RESIDENCE REGULATIONS

HIGH COURT REVERSES LOWER COURT DECISIONS UPHOLDING NEW ORLEANS

LATTER MADE IT UNLAWFUL WHITES TO ESTABLISH HOME IN NEGRO SECTION

Chief Justice Taft announced the decision without opinion. It followed by one week the court's decision invalidating the Texas law forbidding negroes to vote in the democratic primaries.

This appeal was brought by Benjamin Harmon, from decisions against his suits charging the regulations violated his rights under the 14th amendment to the constitution.

Harmon won in lower court but the Louisiana supreme court reversed the decision and ordered the injunction granted, holding that the ruling did not infringe on Harmon's right of equal protection under the constitution.

New Orleans city officials joined with Tyler in defending the segregation rules before the courts here.

The city regulations required Harmon to obtain written consent of a majority of persons of the white race of that portion of the city affected and file it with the mayor.

The city maintained the regulation was justified under the constitutional police power of the state and asserted that no discrimination was involved as white persons were required to follow the same procedure in establishing residence in negro communities.

Make reckless and dangerous driving misdemeanors, with the same restrictions on drivers as for drunken driving.

At the same time anti-evolution "die-hards" today introduced a substitute bill in the house for the original bill which met its quick death in the lower chamber last week. The new bill presented by Rep. F. D. Fredricksen, Caledonia, would forbid the teaching of evolution as a "fact" but would permit its teaching as a theory.

The bank guaranty loan bill also bobbed up in the house today following the unfavorable report of the majority of the committee, sent to Nebraska to study similar legislation there. The minority recommendation report was signed by Rep. L. C. Rosetter, Granite Falls, Rep. Joseph A. Quinn, Menasha, and joint members Sen. William Roepke, Faribault, and Sen. J. A. Carley, Plainview.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH IN WILPEN, PA., FIRE

3 OTHER PERSONS ARE INJURED, PROPERTY DAMAGE OF $100,000

FIREMEN CLAIM BLAZE WAS OF AN INCENDIARY ORIGIN

Ligoniere, Pa., March 14.—(UP)—A 12-year-old child was burned to death, three persons were injured, and damage of $100,000 was caused by fire at Wilpen today.

Firemen claimed the fire was of incendiary origin. It started in the home of Justice of the Peace William Wilson, a champion of prohibition law enforcement, spread to the Wilpen hotel, two grocery stores, a barbershop, a poolroom and another residence.

Emma Jane, Wilson's daughter, was trapped in her room at the rear of the house and burned to death.

SEEK PERPETRATORS OF $104,250 HOLDUP

FORD'S CRITICISM OF THE JEWS AIRED IN COURT SOON

PERHAPS COMPLETE THRESHING OUT OF SAME AT DETROIT, MICHIGAN

JURY OF FARMERS TO HEAR SAPIRO, JEW, AND FORD

By M. D. TRACY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Detroit, March 14.—Henry Ford's seven years of criticism of the Jews is on the verge of its airing in court—and perhaps a complete threshing out.

Tomorrow Ford, openly anti-Semitic, and Aaron Sapiro, a Jew, expect to begin before a jury of Michigan farmers the trial of Sapiro's million dollar libel suit against the automobile manufacturer. Preliminary arguments were to start today.

If Sapiro has his way before the trial ends, Ford will sit on the witness stand himself and answer a challenge to prove the truth of the attacks he has made upon the Jews.

If Ford has his way, the Jewish issue will be left out and the case will narrow down to a far-reaching study of the plan of which more than 100 co-operative marketing organizations handling perhaps a billion dollars a year in farm products, are organized. It is known as the "Sapiro plan." The marketing organizations flourish in 40 states and include most everything that farmers raise—cotton and tobacco in the south; peaches, prunes, fruits and wheat on the Pacific coast; potatoes in Maine, grain in the middle and northwest.

The present suit had its inception in a series of 20 articles published in Ford's Dearborn Independent under the signature of Robert Morgan, said to be the pen name of a San Francisco writer. The articles charged, in brief, that Sapiro was forming his organizations not in the interests of the farmers but in the interests of financiers who were Jews.

The articles bristled with such expressions as "a band of Jews," the "Jewish organization," the "Jewish promoters of the new American farm trust," "the Jewish movement on American agriculture," "Oriental financiers" and the like.

Sapiro is said to have demanded and been refused a retraction of the charges made against him. He then bundled them all up into a complaint which contains 20 counts and 141 specific instances of alleged libel and filed suit against Ford and the Dearborn Independent jointly for a million dollars.

Ford is reputed to be worth more than a billion dollars. The money involved means little to him, but he has refused to give up without a fight. He has spent already a sum which in Detroit is said to approach half a million, in preparing a defense.

He has sent attorneys into the far corners of the country—to Spokane and Seattle, Wash.; Pendleton and Portland, Ore.; San Francisco, Oakland and Fresno, Calif.; Lewiston, Idaho; Richmond, Va., and Raleigh, N. C.; Texas and Maine, Arkansas, Minnesota and the Dakotas.

SAYS VOTES MUST BE GATHERED TO OVERCOME VETO

Cedar Rapids, Ia., March 14.—(UP)—On his arrival here today from Washington, U. S. Senator Rice V. Means, republican, Colorado, declared "President Coolidge will never sign any McNary-Haugen farm relief bill unless we can muster enough votes to pass it over his veto."

"ELMER GANTRY" IS TERMED "ROT" AND "MOCKERY"

DR. CHARLES L. GRANT FLAYS THE MINNESOTA NOVELIST

SAYS "TRASHY NOVELS ARE SMUT GENERATORS, SOCIETY CANCERS"

St. Paul, March 14.—(UP)—While Sinclair Lewis, Minnesota novelist, was tramping the hills of Scotland Sunday, pastors of his native land tramped over his latest book, "Elmer Gantry," in terms that ranged from "mockery" to "rot."

"Scandal mongers are among the best paid members of society," declared Dr. Charles L. Grant, English Lutheran pastor. "The astonishing thing," he continued, "the almost unbelievable thing is that people will pay $2.50 for such rot as 'Elmer Gantry' when they can buy smutty literature at 5 cents a copy."

"Breeds of irreverence and mockers of religion lock the doors to truth when they buy such rot as has just appeared from the pen of Sinclair Lewis," he added.

Dr. Grant told his Sunday night flock that Lewis and his fellows did a grave injustice to humanity when they attempt to ridicule "faithful pastors who go about their duty ministering to the sick, cheering the hopeless and warning the unsuspecting against salacious literature."

"Trashy novels," Dr. Grant concluded, "are smut generators, society cancers and breed irreverence. A little learning can certainly do a world of harm."

PRINCE OF WALES FINDS NEW HAVEN OF CONTENTMENT

London, March 14.—(UP)—The Prince of Wales believes he has found a place where he almost could realize his ambition to spend a few days by himself, free from official routine, court duties, social engagements and a retinue of servants and attendants. The place is Wales' ranch at High River, Alberta, Canada, and it was understood today that the prince would be in residence there for six of eight weeks this summer.

SEEK TO SET ASIDE SALE OF THE CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL

Chicago, March 14.—(UP)—Attorney Weymouth Kirkland, representing the Jamieson committee of Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, today appeared before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson with a request that the judge's order approving the sale of the road be set aside.

The road was sold at Butte, Mont., Nov. 22, 1926, for $142,500,000. Judge Wilkerson approved the sale Jan. 19 of this year.

Judge Wilkerson took the request under advisement.

SEEK TO AVERT COAL STRIKE IN IOWA FIELDS

Des Moines, March 14.—(UP)—Effort to avert a strike in Iowa coal fields will be made here this week when union representatives and operators meet with the state agricultural and industrial commission appointed by Gov. Hammill.

The meetings will be held in the capitol Wednesday. Unless an agreement is reached with the union, a strike is in prospect April 1, when the present agreement expires.

HOOR AFTER BIRTH HOOR OF BIRTH

Detroit, March 14.—(UP)—Surgeons planned a post-mortem examination today on Baby Choice, four day old girl who died yesterday following a relapse from an operation which had removed her appendix and corrected an abdominal wall rupture.

The infant, first of twins born to Mrs. Ollie Choice, was operated upon within an hour after birth. The case was declared unique in surgical history.

KANSAS MAN PASSED AWAY

Died Suddenly Yesterday Morning Here

FROM HEART TROUBLE

Was Visiting at the Home of His Daughter, Mrs. Clyde Ate,
Bluff Avenue

Star B. Hoyt, of Wellington, Kansas, who has made his home here with his daughter, Mrs. Clyde Ate, 209 Bluff avenue west for the past few months, passed away suddenly Sunday morning at 7:30 o'clock from heart failure. While Mr. Hoyt had not been feeling quite as well as usual the last few days, his death came very unexpectedly. Saturday evening he appeared well and happy and apparently had slept through the night when the attack came in the morning.

Mr. Hoyt was 77 years old. He was born in Licken county, Ohio. Prior to his retirement, he was a stone mason at trade.

Funeral arrangements will be made upon the arrival of relatives from Kansas. The body will be sent to Wellington for burial.

CONFESED TRUTH WHEN MOTHER APPEARS

Minneapolis, March 14.—(UP)—With his mother's arm about him, Carl Johnson, former University of Minnesota student, weeping told police here today that he was one of the "hard-boiled" bandits who staged nine robberies in the Twin Cities a week ago.

Johnson, self-styled "tough guy," put on a bold front during questioning until his mother appeared, and then like a little boy he blurted out the truth.

The former student, captured during his tenth "job," told police that he had been out of work for a year and turned to robbery two weeks ago in order to get money on which to live. He refused, however, to name the pal with whom he terrorized the Twin Cities, one Saturday night.

Senator Frank Willis Believes Next President to Be Prohibitionist

Denver, Colo., March 14.—(UP)—The United States' next president will be a staunch prohibitionist, Senator Frank B. Willis, Ohio, believes.

Speaking before the opening session of the Methodist Men's council in Denver last night, Willis plead for stricter enforcement of the prohibition laws.

"The United States cannot remain half wet and half dry," he declared. "We will refuse to elect a president who takes the oath with reservations."

"Moldy jests have made the people feel that violation of the 18th amendment is not only proper but popular. Many churchmen feel that they can wink at the prohibition laws and still remain in good church standing."

A "great moral awakening" is the only remedy, Willis said.

today to submit to the senate resolutions calling for investigation of the state treasurer and the state auditor departments.

Sen. Chris Rosenmeier, of Little Falls, chairman of the rules committee, was to present the report late today calling for a simultaneous investigation of both departments.

The rules committee agreed on the investigation action following an informal conference in connection with the resolution introduced by Sen. C. A. Hausler, St. Paul, and Rep. E. E. Hill, Virginia, calling for an outside audit of the state treasury.

In view of the intimate connection of the auditor's department and the treasury departments the committee decided that an investigation of both should be undertaken at the same time.

SPEAKS A GOOD WORD FOR THE BANKER

L. P. MILLER in the Fargo Forum gives some good advice concerning banks and borrowers and takes up the side of a question too often neglected. It will bear study, for there is a lot of common sense in the matter.

There has been so much cry and hollering about banks and bankers the last few years, that it is about time that some common sense be used, and that the blame be put where it belongs.

In my 30 years or more of farming in this state, I have done quite a bit of business with banks and if it hadn't been for banks I wouldn't have had the chance to make the headway that I have. Without banks and credit, you cannot get anywhere in farming or any other kind of business. I even understand that Henry Ford, the world's richest man, got his start through help he got from bankers who had faith in him.

I know there are among bankers "black sheep," the same as there are among all other classes of people, so nothing more need be said on that score. Let those who are perfect throw the first stone.

I hear about "runs" on banks, where those who have some money due from the banks, make a rush on the bank to collect their money, and if the bank cannot raise the money to pay them all on short notice, they force the bank into bankruptcy. What if the bank should likewise make a "run" on all the farmers and business men and demand immediate payment on the date due of the notes that the farmers and business men owe the banks? Wouldn't that force most of the farmers and merchants into bankruptcy also? So why this one-sidedness?

To make banks safe and restore confidence, why not try the experiment of making a "run" to our banks when our notes are due and pay the bank what it has coming? People have tried the experiment of making "runs" to force the banks to pay on immediate notice what it owes, and that experiment has proven a failure in many cases, so why not try this plan of making a "run" to your bank at once and pay up past due notes that they now hold against you, and also to make a "run" and promptly pay on the date due the other notes that the bank holds against you.

I am satisfied to say and predict that if people will try this experiment of paying their debts, they will cure all these troubles that they are now hollering about and it will save the legislature the trouble of trying to figure out how to legislate prosperity.

Anyhow, it is worth trying. Also we hear so much about prizes and gold cups given to persons or communities raising the best cows, or the best corn, or the best sweet clover, etc. Why not then offer a prize or gold cup to each bank that reports that all its outstanding loans are promptly taken care of and satisfactorily fixed up when due? Also, that those banks whose borrowers did not take care of their debts to the bank, that the banks would make public the names of those parties who do not pay their notes, so that the rest of us can see who the scoundrels are that are causing this grief and hardship. Every time a banker doesn't pay, his name is published. So why not publish the names of those who don't pay him?

"SUICIDE WAVE" TALK DISPROVED

As recorded in the Editor and Publisher of New York, in its last issue, exception is taken to this talk of a wave of suicides among our young people. The topic has been fruitful of much discussion in newspapers, and by the pulpit and other agencies.

A bulletin just issued by the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company discusses suicide as cause of death among American minors of student age. The company's figures indicate that the number of student suicides since the first of the year, reported as 26 in all, does not justify the characterization "suicide wave."

Following are the findings of the insurance statisticians: "The great public interest which a succession of suicides of young boys and girls in their teens has recently attracted, makes timely a presentation of the facts of suicide in childhood and adolescence.

"Suicides among minors constitute a very small fraction of the total number of suicidal deaths in the United States. In childhood, that is, at ages under fifteen, there is no problem at all in this country. During the two years 1923 and 1924, only seventy-eight suicides out of the total of 23,348 in the United States Registration Area were those of children; that is, only three-tenths of one per cent of the total.

"Between fifteen and twenty years, suicide does assume some numerical importance with about three per cent of all the deaths from this cause in the general population of the country. In the experience of the Industrial Department of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, in which almost two million of young people at these ages are insured the trend of suicides since 1911 has been downward among white persons. The rate from this cause among white boys at ages fifteen to nineteen, in 1911, was 6.7 per 100,000; 6.6 in 1912, and 7.3, the maximum in 1913. Last year the figure was only 3.9, that is, about one-half the rate of fourteen years ago. For girls, improvement has been even greater. The highest suicide rate during the period 1911 to 1926 was 10.1, recorded in the initial year, and the lowest rate 2.9 in 1925. Last year the figure was only 3.4, or only one-third of the rate recorded for 1911.

"Thus, in spite of the recent flurry, the general tendency of the suicide rate among young people has been distinctly downward during the last 16 years."

STILLWATER prison earned a net profit of $62,676 in addition to paying its own way in 1926, according to State Board of Control figures.

HARD TO FINANCE OLYMPIC TEAMS

It has been a difficult matter, every season, to finance the U. S. Olympic teams, to provide transportation and housing and the necessary care required to keep the athletes in condition.

Everybody is glad to see America win the tournament, glad to see our pre-eminence in world sports, but somehow it fails to strike the sympathetic chord which touches the pocketbook and contributes freely to the expense bill.

Every season the committee has a hard time raising the money. Europe, on the other hand, thinks America crowded with athletes and money hanging on every bush.

It may be recalled, here in our lake region, how Captain William H. Fawcett took to the Olympic games a victorious team of trapshooters which not alone scored triumphs at the Olympic games but shot its way to first places in tournaments in England and on the continent where the Americans faced the best shots of the Old World. Captain Fawcett was head of the team and the man who financed the thing and made possible the participation of shooters who willingly gave time and energy to make the trip.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Ward, working his way through college, earns money as a dancing partner for rich women in a fashionable New Jersey roadhouse. Bob thinks it isn't a fit way to make a living; but beggars can't be choosers! At the inn he sees the prettiest, sweetest girl he has ever laid eyes on—Sally, the cigarette girl. Reciprocating his interest, she warns him against the mysterious and beautiful Mrs. Hammond, habitue of the inn, who finds her "thrill" in Bob—she is the hunter, not the hunted! Then she and Sally scent enemies in each other.

CHAPTER IX.

On the afternoons when she favored the Palladio inn with her presence, Mrs. Hammond's departure was usually a signal for most of the other women to go also. If men are the monkeys of the human race, then women are the apes. "Follow the leader" psychology, the herd instinct, is better represented in the female sex. So within a comparatively short time after Mrs. Hammond's costly car had slid swiftly away from the embowered portico of the inn, to disappear into the denseness of the New Jersey Hudson highland wilderness, there was a great whining of starting motors, and clashing of gears in the big, drab yard of the inn. One after another the cars shot away—medium-priced to costly, chauffeur-driven in some cases, fair owners at the wheel in others.

Inside, with the going of the last reluctant guest, there was a bustle as the waiters cleared away the afternoon's wreckage and prepared for the night's festivities. The paid dancing entertainers, for whom there was scant need at night—and they were always on tap for that, if Madame Leonine against in the rivalry of Mrs. Hammond—but if Bob did not, well, that was an advantage anyhow. But just then another voice was injected into the informal "back-stage dirt dishing." Mazie Revere had undulated into the room in time to hear enough to understand Bob's last allusion. She said, with that nasty little trick of curling her underlip and pushing up one cynical shoulder.

"Say, Bob, Mrs. Hammond could buy and sell the Queen of England—and all the other Queens of Europe put together. Let me whisper something, you lucky big stiff! From what I saw, Mrs. Hammond has fallen for you worse than Jack Johnson fell for Jess Willard. Swell little love-nest apartment and everything—waiting—oh, it's a pay day on the Park Avenue ritzy circuit for you, Big Boy!"

Bob, far from finding fun in the joshing, or pleasure in the anticipation of Mrs. Hammond's largesse, was genuinely disturbed and pained. Sally leaped to his defense; Sally, with chipper tosses of her little head shaking the combed-honey hair around like electric spray, and with sparks flaming from her eyes and her lips.

"Mazie, you've got some nerve to talk to Mr. Ward that way! Why should he care anything about Mrs. Hammond? She's just one of the patrons to him!"

"Say, unless he's a big sap he's hearing the canaries chirping in that love nest already!"

"Mazie, how dare you—"

"How dare I? Say, to whom do you think you're talking, Ange Face? Who gave you any license to speak up for Big Boy, here? He looks big enough to talk for himself!"

"Oh, now, please—Miss Revere—Miss Smith—please—"

But Bob had no chance to be heard. This was, strictly a personal fight between Mazie and Sally; with Freddy and Arch amused, with Madame Leonine puzzled, and with Bob upset.

Sally sailed right back to Mazie: "You're giving Mr. Ward a fine opinion of this place the very first day he works here!"

"What's aching you, kid? Afraid I'll smother your lilywhite wings in his eyes? Say, no. Alee, big enough to go to college would come here and think he was going to prayer meeting. And, being he's here and got such swell chances to make a killing, he'd be a terrible boob to pass it up. I wouldn't!"

"No, YOU wouldn't!"

Sally, bristling, faced the buxom Mazie as a bantam gamecock might face an eagle. She was almost standing on her tiptoes, so tense was she with excitement and anger.

Madame Leonine, in whom bewilderment had by now been replaced by a comprehension of the situation, stepped between them sarcastically:

"Dry up, you two. I think you've both got a nerve, talking for Mr. Ward!"

Then the Madame smiled benevolently: she had much good reason to be content, had the Madame. "I can overlook a lot of foolishness in Sally. She's young and green. But, you, Mazie, losing your bean over a collarad-man—I didn't think you had it in you anymore."

The Madame managed to signal Mazie with a diplomatic wink. Mazie accepted the appeal to reason and subsided in favor of peace; leaving Sally to cool without further aggravation—which Sally did, feeling rather foolish in the process, and casting sly glances at Bob!

Bob, relieved at the cessation of hostilities, breathed easier. "All right, let's go!" he said to Freddy and Arch. "Miss Smith is going along now, too. Come on—we'll teach her some of the school yell!"

Full of boyish fun, though shy withal, Bob covered up his bashfulness by taking hold of Sally's arm and starting out with her. Freddy and Arch ranged themselves on either side of the couple. Yelling a school song at the top of their lusty voices, the three boys fairly lifted birdlike Sally off her feet and swept her to the door—the side, embowered entrance.

"Who'd expect that kid would have gotten so sore over the Prince of Wales. And I've always liked that kid, too. I've steered her around the back corners, and told her the phoney phone game, and just on account of a good-looking guy she's ready to scratch my eyes out. Can you beat it? But, believe me, she's barking up a wrong tree if she thinks she can buck Mrs. Hammond!"

Mazie, indeed, flailed herself into such a pitch of injured feeling over the apparent ingratitude of her virginal protegee, that she could not help calling after Sally in a most cattish way, just as the little cigarette girl and the boys were going out of the door.

"Take it from me, kid, Mrs. Hammond will get him yet!"

Chicago, March 14.—(UP)—World powers should adopt a "hands off"

policy toward China if world peace is to be assured. In the opinion of Dr. Frederick A. Starr, noted anthropologist and close student of far eastern civilization.

"All China asks is liberty and freedom from oppression by her neighbors," Dr. Starr told the Chicago Sunday Forum. "England acted unwisely in landing troops and the presence of American marines and naval vessels makes the Chinese view the United States with distrust."

Dr. Starr hinted that too much interference in China might lead to another war of world-wide proportions—a war which he believes might prove disastrous to western civilization.

Madame Leonine came up to Bob, even as Freddy and Arch were joshing him upon his apparent conquest of the rich and famous Mrs. Hammond. To the Madame it was not a matter for levity. She was in heavenly transports. She gushed over Bob like a geyser of gratitude. She congratulated him. She did everything but embrace him, and would have done that, too, if Bob himself had not held her off with his sturdy hands in a laughing way.

"Bob, you are a very lucky fellow. No one else has ever been able to please Mrs. Hammond. She has kept telling me she would come here no longer, if I didn't get some dancing partner she would like—"

"She likes 'em big and brutal," laughed Freddy. He and Arch were overjoyed with Bob's success; and in no whit envious. Sworn chums all, the glory of one shed its radiance over the three. They had always been that way, since their freshman year up at good old N. Y. U.

Sally, who had changed to her street clothes, came into the outer dressing room in time to hear that. She flushed a little, then quickly smiled; Bob, seeing her, smiled foolishly.

"They're all making such a silly fuss because Mrs. Hammond danced with me," he explained lamely to Sally. "I can't for the life of me see what all the excitement's about. A body would think she was the Queen of England!"

Sally smiled reassuringly, knowingly, at him. Sally knew deep within her just what she was up

Aaron Hammel of Duluth is in the city and is making arrangements to open a large machinery house here. The firm name will be the L. Hammel Co. the same as in Duluth. A location has been secured in the Gardner building on Fifth street South. The firm will deal in buggies, wagons, carriages, traps, carts, machinery, harnesses and horses. It is a very strong concern and they will doubtless do a thriving business from the start. Mr. Hammel who is in the city today is a very pleasant gentleman to meet.

Miss Mary Murphy who has been visiting in the city for some time with her sister, Mrs. Henry Linne-mann, returned to her home in Faribault this afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. Werner Hemstead returned this afternoon from St. Paul where the doctor has been attending the special session of the legislature.

SAYS WORLD POWERS SHOULD 'KEEP HANDS OFF' IN CHINA

Chicago, March 14.—(UP)—World powers should adopt a "hands off"

policy toward China if world peace is to be assured, in the opinion of Dr. Frederick A. Starr, noted anthropologist and close student of far eastern civilization.

"All China asks is liberty and freedom from oppression by her neighbors," Dr. Starr told the Chicago Sunday Forum. "England acted unwisely in landing troops and the presence of American marines and naval vessels makes the Chinese view the United States with distrust."

Dr. Starr hinted that too much interference in China might lead to another war of world-wide proportions—a war which he believes might prove disastrous to western civilization.

Kansas City, Mo., March 14.—(UP)—Fourteen contests are on the bill for the preliminary matches of the National A. A. U. basketball tournament here today, with the opening match set for 8 o'clock this morning.

Eight preliminaries have been played, two of them yesterday, and the meet will enter the second round tomorrow. Yesterday's games proved to be too one-sided to be of interest.

In the first, the Tulsa, Okla., Eagles had little difficulty in upsetting the hopes of the Triple A club of Omaha Neb., 46 to 19, while Leacock St. Louis, routed with the Red Crown five from Wood River, Ill., to win 61 to 13.

A third game was to have been played yesterday between the Sioux Falls Canaries and the Sterling Milk of Oklahoma City, but the Canaries missed their train. This game is scheduled for today.

U. S. STRENGTH IN OLYMPICS IS LEGENDARY

1928 TEAM CONFINED ALMOST ENTIRELY TO SPRINTERS AND HURLERS

HARD TO DEVELOP MIDDLE DISTANCE OR LONG DISTANCE RUNNERS

This is the fourth of a series of articles written by Henry L. Farrell, United Press sports editor, dealing with the prospects of the American team for the 1928 Olympic games at Amsterdam.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 14.—America's strength on the Olympic track in Amsterdam, in 1928, as has become legendary, will be confined almost entirely to the sprinters and the hurdlers.

Despite the earnest efforts of coaches and athletic directors, it seems impossible to develop middle distance or long distance runners as good as those in England and the Scandinavian countries while foreign countries are slowly but surely getting up to American form in sprinting and hurdling.

America lost the 100 meters dash in Paris and won the 200 meters but if form holds, the team should win both events this year. Germany, however, has in Kornigs a 10.3 sprinter for 100 meters and 21.5 for 200 meters which qualifies him as a serious threat.

America's short distance hopes will be relegated to Charley Paddock world record holder; Charley Borg, national champion; Roland Locke, world record holder for 220 yards, De Hart Hubbard and selections from a group consisting of Scholz, McAllister, Miller, Hussey, Murchison, Bowman and Russell.

In addition to the German threat, there will be Liddell and Butler, of England; Peterson of Sweden and Mourlon of France.

America took a second and a fifth place in the 400 meters in Paris and will have to hustle to do better next year. America's best strength is now represented by Kenneth Kennedy, Horatio Fitch, Cecil Cooke, Jimmy Burgess and Phillips, of Butler College, Liddell, of England and Peltzer of Germany probably will be the favorites.

The half-milers headed by Alva Martin, national champion, and Walter Caine are faster than the runners who took third and fifth places in the 800 meters in 1924 but there aren't as many and the competition will be harder against Lowe, England, the 1924 champion, and Peltzer, the German star. Lowe did 1:52 4-10 last summer for 800 meters and Peltzer did 1:53 3-5 for 880 yards. Martin is a 1:53 3-5 man for 880 yards.

About the only hope the Americans have in the 1,500 meters is that Lloyd Ahahn will be able to finish in a higher position than the fifth and sixth scored by the American team in Paris.

Hahn is a vastly improved runner but he will be running in a field consisting of Nurmi, Wide, Ritola, Martin of France and Peltzer of Germany, who seems to be a team in himself.

With a flock of stars available, the 110-meter high hurdles look safe.

Kinsey, the 1924 champion, will be available and with him are Leighton Dye, national and intercollegiate champion, Robert Maxwell, George Guthrie, Kenneth Grumbles and Monty Wells.

As a favorite in the 400 meter high hurdles, the United States will have Taylor, the 1924 champion, and the national champion and American record holder. He did 52 3-5 in Paris but the record wasn't allowed. John Gibson, Fordham, metropolitan champion in 56 1-5 for 440 yards, and second to Taylor in the nationals, and Pomeroy, coast champion in 50 1-5, are possibilities.

REPORTS FROM 6 REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS

CAGERS WORK WAY TO TOP OF STATE TOURNAMENT HEAP

APPLETON IN NIP AND TUCK GAME DEFEATS GLEN- WOOD, 16-12

Minneapolis, Minn., March 14.—(UP)—Six regional high school basketball teams worked their way to the top of the state tournament heap over the week-end and today were preparing for the final classic here March 24, 25 and 26.

Faribault sealed the seventh region heights at Carleton college, Northfield, by romping off with Mankato, 38 to 11. Butterworth, Faribault center, had a good night and when the game ended the accountants found that he had scored 17 of his team's points.

Bagley did the unexpected in the second region finals at Virginia by nosing out Cloquet, 16 to 12. Brustad, forward, chalked up more than half of the Bagley total.

Appleton and Glenwood played a nip and tuck game for the third region championship which went to Appleton, 21 to 16. The game was played at Alexandria.

Excelsior and Willmar also played a close game for the fourth region finals at South St. Paul which ended 17 to 13, in favor of Excelsior.

Moorhead in the first region and New Ulm in the sixth region won their way into the finals Friday.

The fifth region, St. Paul and Minneapolis, and the eighth region, Worthington, will stage championship play this week.

WILLIAM TULLY, ST. CLOUD CATHEDRAL, ON ALL-STAR QUINT

St. Paul, March 14.—(UP)—William Tully, St. Cloud Cathedral high school, today was placed on the all-star mythical team at the close of the northwest Catholic tournament won by De La Salle, Minneapolis. Tully was responsible for much of the good team work which carried his mates to within striking distance of the championship.

The team selected at the close of the tourney follows:

Johnson, Superior, forward; Duffy, St. John's Academy, Collegeville, forward; Farrell, De La Salle, center; Ruane, De La Salle, guard, and Tully, St. Cloud, guard.

LICENSE OF 'GARDEN' REVOKED FOR WEEK

STATE ATHLETIC COMMISSION CRITICIZES BERLENBACH- McTIGUE CONTRACT

New York, March 14.—(UP)—The license of the Madison Square Garden Corporation today was suspended for one week beginning on March 21 by the state athletic commission, after it had examined contracts for the recent fight between Paul Berlenbach and Mike McTigue.

The commission held that Tex Rickard, majority stockholder of the Garden, had presented a misleading contract and had violated the rules in paying McTigue and Berlenbach 52 1/2 per cent of the gate receipts.

Under the commission's regulation headlines are allowed a maximum of 50 per cent. It was alleged that Berlenbach got 32 1/2 per cent and McTigue 20 per cent, although the contract filed by Rickard with the commission said Berlenbach was to receive only 30 per cent.

Paulino, the Spanish heavyweight, and Tom Heeney, New Zealand champion, had been matched to meet at the Garden on March 23. Under the penalty arranged today the permit for the bout will be recalled.

TO PLAY THE MINNEAPOLIS ASCENSIONS

LATTER CLAIM CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE NORTHWEST AREA

PLAYED 22 GAMES AND WERE UNDEFEATED THE ENTIRE SEASON

Saturday night is the big one for girls' basketball in Brainerd. The Rainbows and the Flying Aces have had their innings, and now it is the girls' turn to show their stuff.

The Minneapolis Ascensions have challenged the Flying Queens of this city for the northwest championship. They claim this title, having gone through this season undefeated. They have played twenty-two of the fastest teams in the state this year, and have emerged from every battle overwhelmingly victorious. They also have a record of having won 53 and lost three games in the last four years. In their captain, they boast of the fastest forward in the northwest. Miss Webster has averaged eight baskets in every game for the past five years and has never been held scoreless. In a recent game, she scored 42 points for her team alone.

So it is very evident that the Flying Queens have a tough battle ahead of them Saturday—and it behooves every basketball fan in Brainerd to come out Saturday night and boost their team. Consistent rooting goes a long way in encouraging a team on to victory.

Manager Gertrude McGarry wants everyone to get behind the girls. "If the Flying Queens win, and they will if you help them, along, they have the right to claim the northwest championship. Think of the publicity this will accord Brainerd—the biggest bit of advertising since the pavement celebration."

A preliminary game will be offered on the same program, Saturday night, starting at 7:30 P. M. The big fray begins at 8:30 o'clock.

"There will also be music to liven things up a bit between halves. Folks, consider this wonderful bargain—put in your appearance at the high school gym Saturday night and show the girls you're for them every time," said Miss McGarry.

SPORT TABLOIDS

Mix-Up in Batting List
Avalon, Catalina Islands—When Catcher D. Murphy of the Hollywood club batted out of turn in the seventh inning he doubled, starting the scoring that defeated the Chicago Cubs, 5-3. The mix-up in the batting list was not noticed until the inning had been played.

Willie Kamm on Batting Streak
Shreveport, La.—Willie Kamm, with a double, a home run, and a single, scored three runs and batted in six as the Chicago White Sox defeated the Shreveport club 10-3.

Further Cuts on Washington Senators

Tampa, Fla.—Further cuts are expected on the Washington Senators squad which now is down to 35. Lefty Thomas, pitcher, has been sent to Savannah and several other young players have been farmed out for additional experience.

Mrs. Huddleston in Another Long Swim

St. Louis—Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston, first woman to swim Catalina channel, announced she would attempt to swim from St. Louis to New Orleans, a distance of 900 miles on the Mississippi. She expects to make the start either in June or July.

LICENSE OF 'GARDEN' REVOKED FOR WEEK

STATE ATHLETIC COMMISSION CRITICIZES BERLENBACH- McTIGUE CONTRACT

New York, March 14.—(UP)—

The license of the Madison Square Garden Corporation today was suspended for one week beginning on March 21 by the state athletic commission, after it had examined contracts for the recent fight between Paul Berlenbach and Mike McTigue.

The commission held that Tex Rickard, majority stockholder of the Garden, had presented a misleading contract and had violated the rules in paying McTigue and Berlenbach 52½ per cent of the gate receipts.

Under the commission's regulation headliners are allowed a maximum of 50 per cent. It was alleged that Berlenbach got 32½ per cent and McTigue 20 per cent, although the contract filed by Rickard with the commission said Berlenbach was to receive only 30 per cent.

Paulino, the Spanish heavyweight, and Tom Heeney, New Zealand champion, had been matched to meet at the Garden on March 23. Under the penalty arranged today the permit for the bout will be recalled.

TO PLAY THE MINNEAPOLIS ASCENSIONS

LATTER CLAIM CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE NORTHWEST AREA

PLAYED 22 GAMES AND WERE UNDEFEATED THE ENTIRE SEASON

Saturday night is the big one for girls' basketball in Brainerd. The Rainbows and the Flying Aces have had their innings, and now it is the girls' turn to show their stuff.

The Minneapolis Ascensions have challenged the Flying Queens of this city for the northwest championship. They claim this title, having gone through this season undefeated. They have played twenty-two of the fastest teams in the state this year, and have emerged from every battle overwhelmingly victorious. They also have a record of having won 59 and lost three games in the last four years. In their captain, they boast of the fastest forward in the northwest. Miss Webster has averaged eight baskets in every game for the past five years and has never been held scoreless. In a recent game, she scored 42 points for her team alone.

So it is very evident that the Flying Queens have a tough battle ahead of them Saturday—and it behooves every basketball fan in Brainerd to come out Saturday night and boost their team. Consistent rooting goes a long way in encouraging a team on to victory.

Manager Gertrude McGarry wants everyone to get behind the girls. "If the Flying Queens win, and they will if you help them along, they have the right to claim the northwest championship. Think of the publicity this will accord Brainerd—the biggest bit of advertising since the pavement celebration."

A preliminary game will be offered on the same program, Saturday night, starting at 7:30 P. M. The big fray begins at 8:30 o'clock. "There will also be music to liven things up a bit between halves. Folks, consider this wonderful bargain—put in your appearance at the high school gym Saturday night and show the girls you're for them every time," said Miss McGarry.

SPORT TABLOIDS

Mix-Up in Batting List
Avalon, Catalina Islands—When Catcher D. Murphy of the Hollywood club batted out of turn in the seventh inning he doubled, starting the scoring that defeated the Chicago Cubs, 5-3. The mix-up in the batting list was not noticed until the inning had been played.

Willie Kamm on Batting Streak
Shreveport, La.—Willie Kamm, with a double, a home run, and a single, scored three runs and batted in six as the Chicago White Sox defeated the Shreveport club 10-3.

Further Cuts on Washington Senators

Tampa, Fla.—Further cuts are expected on the Washington Senators squad which now is down to 35. Lefty Thomas, pitcher, has been sent to Savannah and several other young players have been farmed out for additional experience.

Mrs. Huddleston in Another Long Swim

St. Louis—Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston, first woman to swim Catalina channel, announced she would attempt to swim from St. Louis to New Orleans, a distance of 900 miles on the Mississippi. She expects to make the start either in June or July.

MONDAY MAGIC

It is a wonder that any washing machine has been able to wash clothes without this amazing new feature—the Bakelite Impeller.

Now it is clear why never before has this wash-day magic been possible.

Anybody can understand.

The more water motion produced the better and faster clothes are cleaned.

Now science, with the Bakelite Impeller, has produced the greatest water motion ever seen in any machine—bar none!

There's magic . . . Monday magic in the Meadows.

Three to seven minutes to wash a great big oversized tubful of clothes!

Washed superbly and completely clean!

Yet as gently as you could do it by hand. For the smooth, glossy Bakelite Impeller protects clothes . . . to the filmiest thing. And watch this wonder-washer work its way through a basket of overalls, rag rugs and grimy work shirts.

Try to find something it won't launder completely without a nickel's worth of help from you on the scrubbing board.

Ask any washing machine salesman to demonstrate his machine alongside the Meadows. You'll be amazed at the lack of volunteers.

The new Meadows with the Bakelite Impeller and the biggest tub capacity on record simply performs magic . . . not only the finest laundering but the quickest.

CHINESE SITUATION OUTLINED IN LETTER

J. G. Gjording, Superintendent of Mission of Seventh Day Adventists

WRITES TO RELATIVES

Feels That British Have Tried to Get America Roped Into Trouble

J. G. Gjording, superintendent of the East China Union Mission of Seventh Day Adventists in a letter under date of February 6 to his brother-in-law E. L. Grimstad, of Brainerd and other relatives in this city gives an interesting description of the situation as it now stands in China.

The letter follows:

"We have been silent for so long that we are sure you will all be wondering if the bandits got us the first time they swept over the country, if the Reds, as we commonly call the Nationalists, got us when they swept over the country, or we just died a quiet death for fear of all that is happening these days. As a matter of fact none of these are true, as attested by the fact that I am at the machine again and have no less than eight letters on the go all at one time. One of the main things that happened was not the fact that there has been a little bit of trouble threatening us over on this continent, no not that at all, but rather the fact that one of our meetings, camp meetings you would call it, we call them annual meetings, came at the very time that I have had reserved as a time in which to prepare for it, which meant that preparations had to be gotten in when others slept, then circumstances, financial, not political, were such that we had to hold a rather unexpected Union committee meeting, same has just closed in a very satisfactory and successful manner, and so it has been the one thing right after the other every day till here we are already kissing goodbye to the sixth day of the second moon of this new year, and yet our New Year's letter is still in the grist.

"Now, then, a word about this China situation and let the first word of that be that we have not suffered any inconveniences here as yet and it now looks as though things would blow over without any blood shed. I am frank to tell you that we Americans feel that the British have tried to get America roped into the trouble from the start so as to have something to make a fuss about. We feel that many a report that has been cabled to your American papers has been void of truth and has been sent for no other purpose than propaganda. It is too bad that the cables should be prostrated and prostituted to such base purpose as this, and yet that is often done. At a time when others were pouring into Shanghai for safety those of us who live here were considering leaving this "bone of contention" center for the interior where there is nothing to be contested. And as a matter of fact I had to attend an annual meeting just at the time when things were the most uncertain. I went to the telegraph office to send a message to learn for certain whether I could get through to Wenchow, where our meeting was to be held, or not only to have the men in charge of sending telegrams tell me to write a letter would be better. But I said, I must have an answer back by tomorrow night. Oh no, he said, you can't do that. It will be quicker to write than to send a telegram for our lines are cut and we would have to have three or four days to get word down and the same length back.

"What would you do in such a case? Would you have stayed at home? Or would you have gone on, not knowing whether you would get through or not, and not knowing whether you would get back or not? Well I went down and, I learned afterwards, that on the last ship to go that way for a week. Was there at that meeting wholly cut off from Shanghai and the rest of the world for there was neither telegrams, newspapers, mail or boats that came through while we were there in that meeting. Then came the home trip by small launch carrymen, sailboat, and on the last lap of the journey a steamer, small though it was, it was the best we had on the whole trip. We spent about four days and one night. I ought to have said three nights, for the steamer of course traveled at night also, but I was thinking of the night we walked all the hours of one night away, either on the open road or elsewhere passing back and forth trying to keep warm.

"There has never been a time in our stay in China when we have felt a more loyal support on the part of the Chinese with whom our work has been done. There is much talk about all the Americans being taken out of China and being taken to the Philippines. Now we would very much like to go to the Islands for a trip, but we fear there will be no such vacation coming our way, at least not with the way things look at the present time. As we have come to work in China and not to see the sights in the Philippines we should be and are fully satisfied with things as they are.

thrown us in with than at this very time now. Why folks all along the line seem as nice to us as ever. Of course there are some things that are different and the man who is foolish enough to let off his steam about the lands across the sea and shout around about any superiority of his government is the one who is soon told where to get off at. But we are not here in plottings of a political nature, neither are we here to compare the nationals of one government with those of another. We have the far grander work of helping all men to understand the Christ of man, and His work in behalf of fallen men.

"Those of us living in China do not blame the Chinese for wanting to rule their own country. We do not blame the Chinese for having it in for Great Britain for Great Britain has never done the right thing in China, so it appears to some of us at least. One thing is certain the Boston Tea Party came very early as the outgrowth between England and America, and while England has never had the intimate connections with China that she had so far as blood relations are concerned with America, still she has for years enriched herself at the expense of China, and we do not blame China for revolting against it. The wonder is that she has stood things British as long as she has. So, please take with plenty of salt the reports from a British source and cast your fears away, at least for the present, and we are sure you will all be happier as a result.

"Now you may not have had any fears at all, and we may be wholly out of order with any such suggestions as the above. We hope this is the case, but we feel that there has been enough said in the American journals to frighten most anyone and we do not think it strange even though you should have been frightened."

"Proof of Good Service Is Growth"

In commenting upon our Company, a customer once said that "the proof of good service is constant growth."

Every year during the quarter of a century the J. C. Penney Company has been serving the American people, its growth has been constant; each year its sales have been larger than the previous year.

In 1921, this business had grown to 312 Stores with sales amounting to $46,641,928. For a business still in its 'teens, its growth was a fair proof of the kind of service it had been giving.

However from 1922 to 1926 both its number of stores and volume of sales more than doubled. In 1922, 371 stores had sales of $49,935,729 while in 1926, 745 stores had sales of $115,682,737. Could anything other than good service have earned such stupendous growth?

It has been the constant aim of this Company to serve not only well but better and better as time goes on. Its growth undoubtedly is directly attributable to the high standards of service maintained by all our stores.

while thirty hours would have been sufficient had there been a direct boat as in normal times there used to be.

"The meeting was a very good one and we enjoyed it to the full. We felt just as safe down there cut off from the rest of the world as if we had been at home—and I am not sure but what we felt just a little better about it, for these newspaper lies are enough to upset even a saint, we think, and I am not sure but what the less we have of that which is so perverting in its influence upon the human heart, the better it is for one.

"Now it is true that we do not know what a day will bring forth, but we want you folks to rest assured that all is well with us here and that we are surrounded by hundreds of the most loyal Chinese you ever met anywhere in the world. We have about us scores and scores of those who would be our guides to safety in the event such guides were required, and so we do not want you folks to be afraid. One thing is certain the Boston Tea Party came very early as the outgrowth between England and America, and while England has never had the intimate connections with China that she had so far as blood relations are concerned with America, still she has for years enriched herself at the expense of China, and we do not blame China for revolting against it. The wonder is that she has stood things British as long as she has. So, please take with plenty of salt the reports from a British source and cast your fears away, at least for the present, and we are sure you will all be happier as a result.

"Now you may not have had any fears at all, and we may be wholly out of order with any such suggestions as the above. We hope this is the case, but we feel that there has been enough said in the American journals to frighten most anyone and we do not think it strange even though you should have been frightened."

"Proof of Good Service Is Growth"

In commenting upon our Company, a customer once said that "the proof of good service is constant growth."

Every year during the quarter of a century the J. C. Penney Company has been serving the American people, its growth has been constant; each year its sales have been larger than the previous year.

In 1921, this business had grown to 312 Stores with sales amounting to $46,641,928. For a business still in its 'teens, its growth was a fair proof of the kind of service it had been giving.

However from 1922 to 1926 both its number of stores and volume of sales more than doubled. In 1922, 371 stores had sales of $49,935,729 while in 1926, 745 stores had sales of $115,682,737. Could anything other than good service have earned such stupendous growth?

It has been the constant aim of this Company to serve not only well but better and better as time goes on. Its growth undoubtedly is directly attributable to the high standards of service maintained by all our stores.

500 PRISONERS RIOT IN PRISON AT MONTGOMERY

ALABAMA WARDEN GAVE ORDERS TO SEARCH THEM FOR WEAPONS

FOUR MEN WERE SHOT, 10 OTHERS INJURED IN ALTERCATIONS

Montgomery, Ala., March 14.—Rioting because of orders issued by Warden T. J. Shirley that they be searched for weapons after they had received visits on Sunday afternoon, 500 prisoners in the Alabama state penitentiary were subdued late Sunday after four men were shot and 10 others injured.

Using the recent escape of three condemned murderers at the Joliet, Ill., prison as a basis for his action, Warden Shirley ordered that each prisoner who had received visitors be searched before being taken to his cell. A knife was taken from one of the men.

General rioting followed the enactment of the order in which tear gas and shotguns played a prominent part. Unable to subdue the mutiny through the use of the gas, the warden ordered his men to fire upon the mob. Four men, Frank Bowen, Frank McDougal, A. B. Lee and Melvin Tysno, alleged leaders of the mutiny, were wounded in the first fusillade and the mutiny broken up.

Tyson is said to have been shot in the face, one buckshot entering his head through one eye. His condition is said to be serious. Walter Smith, another prisoner, was taken to the prison hospital with the arteries severed in one leg after he had kicked out a window.

The mutiny broke out while the men were being returned to their cells following supper. Broken furniture and many other missiles which they could get their hands upon was hurled by the convicts against the guards.

Ten men, serving sentences for offenses ranging from murder to robbery, were held in solitary confinement today.

Guards received only minor injuries.

ROMANTIC SCHOOL GIRL DISAPPEARS

RELATIVES SEARCH FOR MARY G. CABELL, 15, UNDER NAME OF "CHARLOTTE BLAKE"

New York, March 14.—(UP)—The name "Charlotte Blake," scrawled over and in a romantic young girl's hand in a school copy book, was the slender clue today on which relatives based a search over half a dozen states for Mary G. Cabell, 15.

Miss Cabell, daughter of Hartwell Cabell, wealthy lawyer, disappeared last Wednesday. Many members of the extensive Cabell family, of which James Branch Cabell, the writer, is a member, live in Texas and Virginia, and the search centered there.

The copy book, in which the girl had practiced writing "Charlotte Blake," was found among her effects at the exclusive Spence school which she attended. Police believe Miss Cabell was preparing to disappear and intended using the name. She was being sought under that alias.

How to Restore Lost Appetite

And Build Firm, Solid Flesh,
And Renew Vitality

Thousands of men and women lack appetite and are "finicky" about what they eat and so find their energy and vigor slipping away. Thousands of other men and women eat heartily, even to the point of "stuffing" yet they remain thin and can't seem to get any "pep."

Such conditions are due to faulty nutritive processes. Lack of stimulation to the mouth and stomach glands is the real cause. We all need better digestion of our food. Scientists are telling us about this as announced nearly every day in the newspapers and medical journals.

If your appetite is poor or if you eat a lot and you still remain thin and lacking in vitality, try this—a good stimulant three times a day with your meals. You will be satisfied with the improvement and results will come quickly.

A remarkable stimulant- tonic has been devised for just such conditions as these. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wineglass full before your next meal—see how much better you feel—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in run-down conditions and overcome lack of energy. —Adv.

How to Restore Lost Appetite

And Build Firm, Solid Flesh,
And Renew Vitality

Thousands of men and women lack appetite and are "finicky" about what they eat and so find their energy and vigor slipping away. Thousands of other men and women eat heartily, even to the point of "stuffing" yet they remain thin and can't seem to get any "pep."

Such conditions are due to faulty nutritive processes. Lack of stimulation to the mouth and stomach glands is the real cause. We all need better digestion of our food. Scientists are telling us about this as announced nearly every day in the newspapers and medical journals.

If your appetite is poor or if you eat a lot and you still remain thin and lacking in vitality, try this—a good stimulant three times a day with your meals. You will be satisfied with the improvement and results will come quickly.

A remarkable stimulant- tonic has been devised for just such conditions as these. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wineglass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in run-down conditions and overcome lack of energy. —Adv.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into colds, congestion, aching muscles and sore, stiff joints relief comes at once.

The moment you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the congested spot is warmed through and through. When you are suffering from a cold, rheumatism, backache, stiff neck or sore muscles, just get a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, at any drug store. You will have the quickest relief known. Always say "Rowles." —Adv.

ROMANTIC SCHOOL GIRL DISAPPEARS

RELATIVES SEARCH FOR MARY G. CABELL, 15, UNDER NAME OF "CHARLOTTE BLAKE"

New York, March 14.—(UP)—The name "Charlotte Blake," scrawled over and in a romantic young girl's hand in a school copy book, was the slender clue today on which relatives based a search over half a dozen states for Mary G. Cabell, 15.

Miss Cabell, daughter of Harwell Cabell, wealthy lawyer, disappeared last Wednesday. Many members of the extensive Cabell family, of which James Branch Cabell, the writer, is a member, live in Texas and Virginia, and the search centered there. The copy book, in which the girl had practiced writing "Charlotte Blake," was found among her effects at the exclusive Spence school which she attended. Police believe Miss Cabell was preparing to disappear and intended using the name. She was being sought under that alias.

Girls! Tell This To Your Skinny Friend

Tell him that the quick easy way to put pounds of solid flesh on his bones is to take McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Tell him it's the modern way to take nasty tasting, stomach upsetting cod liver oil—that these tablets are rich in vitamins and besides helping him to fill out his flat chest and sunken cheeks and neck that the vitalizing vitamins in McCoy's will make him strong and vigorous and give him more ambition.

Tell him that he can get 60 tablets for 60 cents at H. P. Dunn's, C. D. Johnson's or any druggist anywhere and that if he isn't delighted after a 30 day test he can have his money back. —Adv.
